Independent Study Abroad

Guidelines

Independent Study allows students to pursue an educational experience not available through regular Western Washington University catalog course offerings. Students can participate in an international independent study through a WWU department and the International Programs & Exchanges office. Students should start planning at least 2 quarters in advance for an independent study abroad.

Academic Requirements:

- Independent Study requires approval by an academic department or college and/or a faculty advisor; faculty advisor must determine how the Independent Study is evaluated and graded;

- Acceptability to the Independent Study program, organization or agency (if applicable);

- International Programs & Exchanges (IPE) requires that students are in full time status at WWU, in good academic standing with at least 30 credits earned and a 2.5 GPA or above.

Procedures:

- Meet with faculty advisor and obtain approval for Independent Study. Independent Study Abroad credit can only be applied to one academic department.

- Obtain the green Independent Study Card from the Registrar’s Office. Complete the card and route through your faculty advisor, department and college. Exception: Fairhaven students follow procedures outlined on: http://www.wwu.edu/fairhaven/academics/isp/isp_instructions.shtml.

- Obtain and complete the IPE Independent Study Abroad Application. Submit the completed application to the International Programs and Exchanges office and schedule an appointment to meet with an IPE advisor.

- The advising appointment is especially important if the student is on Financial Aid, as they will need to complete an approved financial budget with the IPE advisor as well as obtain the IPE advisor signature on the green Independent Study Card. Exception: IPE advisor will email Kathy Johnson, Fairhaven College when Fairhaven students complete the IPE Independent Study Abroad Application. Fairhaven students do not use the green Independent Study Card.

- It is up to the student and faculty advisor to determine how the Independent Study will be graded. Some departments have specific guidelines, for example Fairhaven College has their own guidelines. Students must follow departmental guidelines for Independent Study Abroad.

- After the Independent Study is completed, the student must meet with his/her advisor to discuss the evaluation and Independent Study before a grade and number of credits is determined.

- The faculty advisor will send the grade and number of credits earned to the Registrar’s Office.

- The Registrar’s office will then post the grade and number of credits earned to the WWU transcript.
