Education Abroad

Visit the EdAbroad office for information or assistance in researching your Internship Program.

Full-Time Internship: Students complete an Internship abroad (for credit, not for pay) that is usually accompanied by an "Internship Course" at full-time status. The course may include discussions on work-place differences, and provide a check-in opportunity to professionalize your international work experience.

Internship + Study Combo: Students are able to take a part-time Internship (4-6 credits) in addition to coursework on many study abroad programs!

Internship + Intensive Language: Students are able to take a part-time internship (4-6 credits) in addition to intensive language study!

International Internships Guidelines

Internship approval:

Students will need approval by a faculty advisor or academic department /college chair: The faculty advisor MUST determine how the internship will be evaluated and graded.

International Internships

The following programs highlight International Internships. This is meant to highlight a variety of programs that provide full-time Internships; please note there may be more available beyond what is listed here, and this is not a guaranteed list for credit transfer. Students will still need to meet with their major/minor departments to discuss fulfilling degree requirements. Please visit our website at <https://studyabroad.wwu.edu/> for additional opportunities.

Students can participate in an international internship that may range from a few weeks to six months of full-time work.

The internship integrates academic credit at Western Washington University with on-the-job experience, allowing students to gain valuable skills while working towards a degree. Students should start planning at least two quarters in advance for an international internship.

Students must work closely with a faculty advisor when doing an international internship.
